

A story in our home

Grandfather Abdullah's stories with his grandchildren

By Dr Salem Abdullah Al Nuaimi

A story in our home

By Dr Salem Abdullah Al Nuaimi

Text rights reserved to the author.

Illustrations generated with AI.

English edition.

Square format: 21 × 21 cm.

salemalnuaimi.ae

Before we open the album

At Grandfather Abdullah's home, small questions lead to stories. Come and sit with us. Sometimes we remember, sometimes we try something new, and each time we get to know one another a little better.

Contents

Page

Story

8	1. Your rights matter
12	2. Your opinion matters
16	3. You make a difference
20	4. We are listening
24	5. Your experience is a treasure
28	6. At your own pace, Grandpa
32	7. May I, Grandpa?
36	8. Teach me, my boy
42	9. I'm glad you told us
48	10. I have a part to play

Contents

Page

Story

54	11. Your money, your choice
60	12. You have a right to understand
66	13. Your friends are waiting
70	14. My things have value
74	15. I have a right to complain
80	16. I can speak for myself
84	17. Learning has no age limit
88	18. A path for everyone
94	19. Your secret is safe
98	20. A book I can read

Little acts of care

"Caring takes more than words," said Grandmother Awsha. Ghaya passed Sheikha the basket of dates. "Even little things count." Salem smiled. "That's how love grows."

Another story in our home

"Does that mean the stories are finished?" asked Rashid. Grandfather Abdullah laughed. "As long as we gather together, there are more stories to tell." "And we'll choose the next one together!" said Sheikha.